COMMITTEES OF THE UNITED STATES INTELLIGENCE BOARD

(Effective 3 December 1974)

Pursuant to provisions of National Security Council Intelligence Directives, the composition, organization and general rules of procedure for committees of the United States Intelligence Board are hereby established.

1. Purpose

This directive has for its purpose the standardization of matters applicable to all committees established by Director of Central Intelligence Directives in support of the Community responsibilities of the Director of Central Intelligence.

2. Composition and Organization

a. Each committee will consist of a chairman designated by the DCI and normally of designated representatives of the chiefs of departments and agencies who are members of the USIB and the representatives of the Departments of the Army, Navy and Air Force. The committee chairman may invite a representative of the chief of any other department or agency having functions related to the national security or national welfare to participate with the committee whenever matters within the purview of that department or organization are to be discussed. With approval of the DCI, a committee chairman may grant associate membership to the representative of any non-USIB department or agency that has a continuing involvement with the work of the committee.

b. Each committee will be supported as necessary by subcommittees, working groups, advisory groups or other supporting units as approved by the committee chairman or as provided in applicable DCIDs. The chairmen of supporting elements will be designated by the parent committee chairman. Membership on the subcommittees or other supporting elements of a committee need not be limited to member agencies of the committee but may be extended by the parent committee chairman to representation from other departments and agencies having related functional responsibilities or support capabilities.

c. Each committee will have a secretariat to be provided by the Central Intelligence Agency, or a full-time support staff to be manned by the USIB departments and agencies under arrangements approved by the DCI.

3. Rules of Procedure

a. Each committee shall meet upon the call of the chairman or at the request of any of its members. Items may be placed on the agenda of a committee by the DCI, by the Deputy to the DCI for the Intelligence Community, by the Deputy to the DCI for National Intelligence Officers, or by the chairman or any member of the committee.

b. The committees and their subordinate groups will seek to reach decisions and recommendations by agreement. Statements of decisions and recommendations of the committee will be formulated by the chairman with consideration given to views of the members. At the request of a dissenting member, the chairman will refer the decision or recommendation along with the dissenting opinion or opinions to the appropriate higher authority.

c. Each committee shall exercise primary responsibilities with respect to matters assigned to it as set forth in the DCID establishing the committee, and shall coordinate with other committees established by DCIDs in areas of joint or overlapping concern.

d. Overview of the USIB committees, on behalf of the DCI, will be exercised by the Deputy to the DCI for the Intelligence Community.

e. Each committee shall submit an annual report to the DCI upon his call, and such other reports as the DCI may request.

Director of Central Intelligence

DIRECTOR OF CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE DIRECTIVE NO. 3/3¹

PRODUCTION OF ATOMIC ENERGY INTELLIGENCE²

(Effective 23 April 1965)

Pursuant to the provisions of NSCID No. 3 and for the purpose of strengthening the over-all governmental intelligence structure, the following policies, procedures, and practices are hereby established for the production and coordination of atomic energy intelligence.

1. Policies

The following principles shall apply to the discharge of responsibilities by the departments and agencies concerned:

- a. No complete separation of areas of interest is desirable or possible.
- b. Full and free interchange among all departments and agencies of all information which has utility for intelligence relating to the national security is essential. This includes intelligence information, finished intelligence, and information on [redacted] intelligence research programs.
- c. Each department or agency shall develop special competence in those intelligence fields directly related to its primary departmental responsibilities and shall normally carry out the bulk of the research in those fields.
- d. Each department or agency may make such studies as it believes necessary to supplement intelligence obtainable from other departments and agencies in order to meet its departmental requirements, but unnecessary duplication and overlap shall be avoided.

2. Production Responsibilities

The production of intelligence on atomic energy is a responsibility of all departments and agencies represented on the United States Intelligence Board, to be coordinated through the Joint Atomic Energy Intelligence Committee.

3. Establishment of the Joint Atomic Energy Intelligence Committee

The Joint Atomic Energy Intelligence Committee is hereby established as a committee of the United States Intelligence Board to coordinate atomic energy intelligence activities of the Government as set forth below.

² Atomic energy intelligence is intelligence related to: [redacted]

5. Membership of the Joint Atomic Energy Intelligence Committee

The Joint Atomic Energy Intelligence Committee shall be composed of designated representatives of the departments and agencies represented on the USIB, including Army, Navy and Air Force representatives. Other departments and agencies may be invited by the Chairman to participate in the work of the JAEIC as agreed by the Committee.

6. Chairman of the Joint Atomic Energy Intelligence Committee

The Chairman of the Joint Atomic Energy Intelligence Committee shall be designated by the Director of Central Intelligence in consultation with and with the concurrence of the Intelligence Board. The Central Intelligence Agency shall provide appropriate secretariat support.

7. Subcommittees of the Joint Atomic Energy Intelligence Committee

The Joint Atomic Energy Intelligence Committee may establish working groups as appropriate and subcommittees as approved by the Intelligence Board.

8. Inter-Committee Coordination Responsibilities

The Joint Atomic Energy Intelligence Committee shall share with the Scientific Intelligence Committee, Guided Missile and Astronautics Intelligence Committee, Economic Intelligence Committee and other appropriate Intelligence Board committees responsibility for the coordination of areas of joint or overlapping concern. Care shall be taken to avoid undesirable duplication in activities and also to ensure that no important scientific, technical or economic intelligence matter is neglected or escapes attention by falling between areas of established separate committee activities. The chairman of each of these committees shall be responsible for ensuring liaison and coordination with the other committees involved on any and all matters of joint or overlapping concern.
